The COLUMBIA

NEW PROCESS records are wonders—no surface noise—no scratch.

This is the biggest record improvement in years. If you haven't heard the new Columbias, don't fail to ask for a demonstration.

To those who are just starting their record collection may we suggest as one of your New Year resolutions—start it right. Buy a few at a time and regularly. Pick a few from each new monthly list and between times fill in with the good standard selections from the general catalogue. It's the best way to make your machine a lasting joy. Don't try to have a whole big collection at once. Take time and choose wisely. With our complete stocks and special demonstrating rooms you have every convenience for making your selections right here in our store. With nearly 25 years' experience in phonographs and records we know how to serve you and it is ever our aim to serve better if that be possible.

MAINTAINING SIEGE AT "IRISH CONSULATE"

"Republic Military Forces," Under Mrs. MacSwiney and Free State Consul Sit Tight.

New York, Dec. 29.—"Competent Irish Republican military forces" have taken the outer offices of the Irish consulate here, it was admitted yesterday by Robert Briscoe, who said he was an officer in the Republican army, and will hold them until some decision has been made as to who actually should operate the office. Siege of the office began last night when Lindsay Crawford took them over as Free State consul.

Muriel MacSwiney, widow of the former Mayor of Cork, is in command. Lawrence Guinness, the aged Republican who was named envoy to this country by Eamon De Valera, no longer gives orders. Briscoe declared he received orders from Mrs. MacSwiney and would act on them at all times. He refused to say who commanded Mrs. MacSwiney.

This was the principal development after Republicans had picketed the offices of the consulate 24 hours, declaring that Crawford should not keep control. Crawford, however, insisted he would remain in the offices until he was ordered out by his own superiors.

Last night, the "Republican army" was in control of the outer offices. Crawford held the inner offices. The safe and filing rooms were held by the Republicans but the only couch in the place was in Crawford's possession.

The State consul, however, asserted he would not be insistent that the Republicans remain in that portion of the rooms they had held all day. Because Mrs. MacSwiney, Mrs. Gertrude Corliss and Miss Vera Finerty planned to remain on guard all night, he told them they might use the room in which the couch was if they wished.

Four police detectives were on hand as night came on, to see that

At The New Winslow Home for the Aged

The alterations and changes which have been in progress for several weeks are steadily progressing and enough of the work is now done so that visitors can realize the completed project.

So far the work has all been paid for by one person but in order to make the Home an active and successful one more funds are needed and a drive will be made later.

In the meantime the work now being done should be completed and gifts and pledges are solicited. This is the season of the year when income tax returns are nearly due. Gifts for a public cause are not taxed.

Any person within or outside Bennington who can spare something that the work of getting the Home ready for occupancy may be hastened will be doing a Christian service by forwarding a check or pledge to Homer H. Webster, treasurer, or E. H. Holden, secretary.

Acknowledgment will be made and every dollar will be devoted to one of the most laudable works ever undertaken in Bennington.
